“Surround to Stereo” feeds the surround and high surround mics to the stereo signal for a richer and wider sound.. As with the first collection, the instruments were captured at the large “Stage A” of Vienna Symphonic Library’s own scoring stage with the same multi-microphone setup that makes their pristine sound extremely flexible.. You may release the key at any time – the individually adapted release samples will be triggered automatically.. Miking and MixingEvery instrument was recorded using 12 microphones You may select from four microphone positions (Standard Library) or seven different microphone positions (Full Library) and mix them to your liking, using the full-fledged mixer of the Vienna Synchron Player..
